

jooui Southern Italy circa loot)
A.D, 21

perial power, have to govern by means of and with the consent of Ideal notable's who, under the names of boni homines or xfxot jcvfipttaoi* act
an representative town«councilK, Thtmt civic notablQK themselves are ftnmtl adorned with nueh tuuneHOR protaspttharii or (ttndidutii purely unofficial titles flowing from the fountain of honour
at CcmgUinttnoplet

The HtHTct of Cirwfc rule in Apulia smns to have been the Ktmplo on« of «howvring honours «nd petty offices ot» thw civic notabilitu*A and,
»ig them undiMturbcd in enjoyment of
thts
go long cm thtty carried on the local government in the namo of th« Hatdlcnut mud paid limi hii due tributes, Nor was any nyutcmatic attempt mode to mtint Lombanl itifluencs, which wcr* naturally 8trongent in the greater tnwmi. Thw« even In Burl th« magiKtratch tin* found at the end of list*
Umth century to In* Lombard, ititd w* art* Uu*
potty local govcmmentn farther inland* In thti zontt bvtwtntn the luntl of Otrartto luul the free duchitti l^ntbord %A&hitd$ luul cJnvk tif exist side by stick*.¹ Where the Inhibitntii
Lombard and Hvu tjj !«tmtbard Inw ilwy urt* atiltt to call in it %<ixtttki «f tht*tr i»wn ract» to c.tll« a Ui»putt)» wen n %astultl wlici«» i«>vrr«?

ign bi tint I'riact* «f SitlrrriH* wr the I)uke t*f Hencvenl f», I t*»\v little opprt*»«ve the CircHik rule WAS, mul how skilfully the Catiifmns yielded t<i the difficult

*Th®

•«WI%itl««I into